

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE
FIGHTS 80 NOMINEES

Work Reinforced by New Body, the Flying Squadron Foundation, Inc.

REPORTS $2,259 SPENT

Figures Cover Only National Campaign; Larger Sums Used Locally.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

New York Herald Bureau, Washington, D. C., Oct. 28. The scope of the prohibition issue in the Congressional campaign was disclosed to-day by the statement of the receipts and expenditures of the Anti-Saloon League of America filed under protest with the Clerk of the House.

The Anti-Saloon League's work is being reinforced by a new organization, The Flying Squadron Foundation. Incorporated, operating with the endorsement of the Prohibition Committee, Hays and William J. Bryan and holding political meetings all over the country.

The Anti-Saloon League reported expenditures of only $2,259, but Wayne H. Wheeler, general counsel of the organization, made it clear that this expense was incurred simply in the national campaign. It is not a secret that the Anti-Saloon League, working locally, as it does everywhere, is spending sums far in excess of those reported.

The Anti-Saloon League report, furthermore, omits items that are included in the reports of the Republican and Democratic Committees already filed. The political party statements show salaries paid, cost of offices and traveling expenses of organizers, but the Anti-Saloon League gives nothing of the sort. The items are for literature almost exclusively and for postage and cartage.

In filing the report Mr. Wheeler protested that the Anti-Saloon League should not be required to make a statement of its receipts and expenditures. The reason was that the organization was educational, scientific and charitable and not political in the sense of the political parties, although the report gives the names of nominees to whom aid is being given in eighty districts.

In Illinois the league is active in the Third and Seventeenth districts, in the Fifth district of Indiana, Fourth district of Iowa, the Fifth, Seventh and Eighth districts of Minnesota; in New Jersey in the Third, Fourth and Eighth districts; in Ohio in the Third, Fourth, Sixth, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Thirteenth, Seventeenth, Nineteenth and Twentieth, in Oklahoma in the Sixth district, in Pennsylvania in the Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Twentieth, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-eighth, Thirtieth and Thirty-first districts; in Louisiana in every one of the eight districts; in Massachusetts in all sixteen districts, and in Missouri in all the sixteen districts.

The league reported receipts of $3,750 in seven contributions: S. S. Kresge, Detroit, gave $1,000; A. Z. Blair, Portsmouth, Ohio; Robert Young, Columbus, Alex. Neff, Neffs, Ohio; D. C. Boyd, Gallen, Ohio, and Samuel Dunlap, Circleville, Ohio, each gave $500. Summerfield Baldwin, Baltimore, gave $250.

The flying squadron reported receipt of $56,711 in contributions of less than $100 each. Of this sum, $27,737 was received in cash, the rest being unpaid pledges. The organization spent $47,000 for public meetings in the Middle West and South, the money being used for salaries and expenses of speakers, hall rent and advertising.

A third organization interested in prohibition made a report—the National Prohibition Committee, successor to the National Prohibition party, the treasurer, R. F. Farris, reported receipts and expenditures of less than $300, but said somebody else had the books and he would be unable to give details on where the money went.

The Association Opposed to the Prohibition Amendment intends to file a report; but so far it has not reached the clerk of the House. It is understood it will show about $1,500 disbursements. The Democratic Senatorial committee reported receipts of $1,437, all from residents of North Carolina, the home State of Frank A. Hampton, the treasurer. The expenditures were $690, mostly for stamps and office expenses.

CHARGES BROKER KEPT HIS STOCK AND MONEY

Dr. Wheelock Announces Larceny Charge Against Shewry.

Dr. W. E. Wheelock of Rockville Centre, announced yesterday that he will take before Charles R. Weeks, District Attorney of Nassau county, a complaint of grand larceny against Charles William Shewry, partner in Shewry & Falkland, stock brokers of 88 Broadway, who failed last spring. He said he is going to Nassau because he was unable to get an indictment in New York county.

Dr. Wheelock says that shortly before the Shewry & Falkland failure he gave to Shewry $1,500 in cash and five shares of American Telephone & Telegraph stock, and to Mrs. Shewry for delivery to the firm 150 shares of General Motors, for the purchase of 100 shares of Columbia Gas & Electric and 100 California Petroleum, the first on partial payments and the second on margin. The telephone stock was deposited merely as security for future payments. Dr. Wheelock says, and was not to be sold.

A few days before the failure, Dr. Wheelock asked that his account be closed out. This was not done, he says, and he has never been able to recover his money or securities.

Dr. Wheelock says he went to the District Attorney's office here to file the case before it. He was informed that the crime, if any, had been committed in Nassau county, as Dr. Wheelock had given Shewry the property in Rockville Centre.

MME. LEBAUDY ARRIVES WITH SECOND HUSBAND

Daughter Who Married Stepfather's Son Along.

Mme. Lebaudy, widow of Jacques Lebaudy, who was slain at his home in Westbury, L. I., returned yesterday on the steamship Paris with her husband, Henri Harris Sudreau, Parisian detective, whom she was married last month. With them were her daughter, Jacqueline Lebaudy, who was married to Roger Harris Sudreau at the same time her mother was married to the elder Sudreau.

Mme. Lebaudy said she would retain the name of Lebaudy because of the large estate of her husband, which extends over parts of Europe and Africa and has not been adjusted. The younger Sudreau said he probably would follow the example of his father and become a detective. This is his first visit here and his father's second. The Lebaudys went to the Hotel Pennsylvania for an indefinite stay, as Mme. Lebaudy said it was too cold to go to the home at Westbury.

OGDEN MILLS TO MAKE 14 SPEECHES THIS WEEK

Campaign for Congress Will End at High Pressure.

Ogden L. Mills announced yesterday an intensive speechmaking program to close his Congress campaign. He will address fourteen meetings this week in addition to meeting as many voters personally as he can.

His itinerary for to-morrow follows: 4 P. M.—Meeting at the home of Mrs. Russell Sard, 135 East Seventy-ninth street.

5:15 P. M.—Meeting at the Park Avenue Hotel under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Lott.

8 P. M.—Central Club for Nurses, 134 East Forty-fifth street.

9 P. M.—Meeting of the League of Women Voters of the Tenth and Fifteenth Assembly Districts, Women's University Club, 106 East Fifty-second street.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN JOIN MEN IN RALLY

Both National Clubs Furnish Speakers for Meeting at Cooper Union.

Republican women will end their campaign for the reelection of Gov. Miller with a mass meeting Wednesday night at Cooper Union. For the first time since women won the ballot the Men's National Republican Club and the Women's National Republican Club will combine in presenting a list of speakers favoring the State and Senatorial candidates.

Secretary Hughes will be the principal speaker. Others on the program are Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler and Mrs. Arthur L. Livermore, chairman of the Women's Republican State Executive Committee. Nathaniel A. Elsborg will preside.

"Women on the farms, in the small towns and cities will be the deciding factor in the reelection of Gov. Miller," said Mrs. Livermore yesterday. "The individual work of thousands of Republican County Committeewomen will result in a triumph for Gov. Miller and the entire Republican State ticket."

"Governor Miller was elected in 1920 by a plurality of 7,000 votes. We expect to run far past that figure this year. From the standpoint of the women that will be due not only to the devoted work of the committeewomen but to the fact that, because of Governor Miller's splendid welfare program of the last two years women prominent in civic affairs are showing special activity in his behalf."

"There is a growing interest in his politics because of his faithful performance. The New York State women are working for Miller; the women interested in prison reform and those laboring in behalf of the crippled, the diseased and the blind are all anxious to have Governor Miller returned to Albany."

"The women admire that type of man who sits in the Governor's chair—his fearlessness and his breadth of outlook." Suffolk county Republican women will start on a speaking tour Wednesday. They will leave Amityville in six automobiles and will tour the South Shore to Sag Harbor, thence along the North Shore to Huntington. They will visit ten towns and will have five speakers, three women and two men, a brass band and a truck filled with literature. Along the way they will be joined by Robert Bacon, candidate for Representative, and the candidates for State Senate and Assembly.

STOLE BOOKS TO HELP HIM IN COLLEGE THESIS

Essential to His Graduation, So Court Lets Teacher Go.

Sigmund Shapiro, 24, a teacher of Hebrew, who lives at 321 Twentieth avenue, Brooklyn, pleaded guilty yesterday in the Court of Special Sessions to stealing two books. Sentence was suspended after Probation Officer Elias informed the court that Shapiro had stolen the books to obtain information to be used in a thesis he was required to write at Columbia University, where he is a student. He said the thesis was necessary for his graduation.

Shapiro, besides attending Columbia, is a teacher at the Talmud Torah School in West Thirty-first street, Brooklyn, and the New Utrecht High School in Brooklyn. He declined at his home last night to discuss the theft of the books.

FIFTH AVENUE 34th STREET

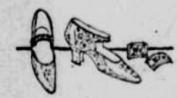

The Pageant of Evening Fashions

Every requisite of Madame and Mademoiselle's evening attire will be found at McCreery's.

When myriad feet twinkle in the dance, this slipper of gold cloth and vari-colored brocade will stand out because of its unique distinction. 12.50

Another of silver or gold brocade can be used with rhinestone buckle on a brocade background to lift it into the realm of the unusual. 12.00

Fine of weave, and pure in silk, are the hose milady chooses for her evening attire. Of course they blend. 2.95 to 12.50

Countless luxurious motors will soon stream past the dim lights of the Avenue to the brilliance of the opera, theatre, restaurant, and social festivity. Bearing all that bespeaks elegance and good taste. Once again will be revealed the American woman's far famed reputation for discrimination in dress. A discrimination recognized by James McCreery & Co.

Taste, individuality, and the height of the mode are the keynotes of all McCreery evening habiliments.

Three or four plumes float guilelessly to and fro whenever Madame chooses a fan as weapon and adornment. 9.75 to 49.75

Gowns of Gleaming Metal Cloth and Shimmering Velvet

will lend their supple beauty and gorgeous hues to enhance the charm of both Madame and Mademoiselle. At McCreery's they may now be seen in fascinating variation, skilfully beaded or of sheer simplicity in accordance with the Parisian dictum. Or, perhaps, she may prefer a filmy, fragile creation of chiffon, for the dance—it, too, is here. 38.00 to 198.00.

The Wraps She Swathes About Her

may be of Velvet or Metal Brocade in keeping or contrast with her gown—but, at all costs, it is a sumptuous affair, richly beaded or embroidered and topped with a huge collar of all-enveloping fur. As in the gown, American Beauty, Rose, Lanvin Green, Sapphire Blue, Silver and Black hold the leading roles in the play of color. 55.00 to 495.00.

If entirely of Fur it appears in Mink, of course, but with the skin so arranged as to present an entirely new treatment of the back. Squirrel emulates its brown brother in a wrap for Mademoiselle, while Caracul, Seal and Moleskin hold the fancy of both. 265.00 to 2,250.00 in various furs.

According to her type, Madame chooses a picturesque Spanish comb, a Grecian bandeau or wreath of silvery leaves and berries to offset the lustre of her hair. 3.95 to 24.75
